GERMANY REGRETS TORPEDOING OF THE OIL SHIP GULF FLIGHT

TAINED.

NOT CLEAR IN CUSHING CASE

But if it Was American Vessel Which Was Attacked by the German Aero plane Also Ready to Pay for the Damage—Asks the United States to Name the Loss.

Washington, June 4.—Germany in today cable to the state department by Ambassador Gerard at Berlin expressed regrets that through "unfortunate accident" a German submarine had torpedoed the American steamship Gulfight and declared itself "ready to furnish full recompense for the damage thereby sustained by American citizens."

In the same communication the German foreign office said it had not yet been possible to clear up fully the cause of the American steamer Cushing, reported attacked by a German aeroplane and asked that the United States communicate the information in possession concerning this incident.

Blame for the attack on the Guernsey light was placed by the foreign office upon the proximity of two British patrol boats and the absence from the steamer's free board of the distinctive markings usually carried by neutral ships in the war zone. "That attacked steamer carried the American flag," the note added, "was first observed at the moment of firing shot."

The Gulfport was torpedoed in the English channel five weeks ago, was bound from Port Arthur, Texas, to Rouen, France, with oil. Two seamen were drowned when the crew left the boats immediately after the attack and the captain died of his wounds the next day.

Text of Note.

The text of the note, which signed by the minister of foreign affairs, follows:

"In regard to the attack on

German submarine saw on the afternoon of May 1, in the vicinity of Scilly Islands a large merchant steamer coming in his direction, which was accompanied by two smaller vessels.

...later took such position in relation to the steamer that they forced a regulation safeguard against marines; moreover, one of them had a wireless apparatus which is not usual with small vessels. From this evidently was a case of an Eng-

for a conveyed vessel. Since such vessels are regularly armed the submarine could not approach the danger of destruction. It was on the other hand to be assumed that the steamer was of considerable value to the British government since it was so gaily material which was submitted in order that with a basis a further position taken in the matter."

Chief Ed Bauerle
Given Gold Badge

Chief Ed Bauerle was honored yesterday by a token of respect and admiration by the members of the Waco fire department and his friends by being presented with a magnificent gold badge with a diamond set. It is formed of solid gold, while the gold wheel which hangs from a bar of gold has a large diamond incrustated in the hub.

The presentation of the emblem of merit was made in the store of Fred Studer, through which company it was ordered, and was presented by Judge Tom P. Stone as spokesman for the donors. In a few well chosen words Judge Stone said that the merit and fidelity to duty by Chief Bauerle had not passed unnoticed by his friends and that this was only a slight token of the esteem and love of the men who have been associated with him in the fire department while he was assistant chief and later as chief and of his many friends outside of the department.

The chief was taken by complete surprise and was visibly affected. He accepted the token with a short talk of appreciation and, thanking his friends for their confidence and pledged his best efforts to keep the department up to its present high standard.

BRITISH RECRUITING
AMERICAN YOUTHS

FEDERAL OFFICIALS ARE PROB-
ING AT BOSTON FIFTEEN MEN ENLISTED.

Is Violation of the Agreement With the British Board of Trade.

Boston, June 4.—Alleged recruiting of American young men for the military forces of Great Britain is the subject of an investigation begun by federal officials here today. According to a cablegram from the United States consul general at London, which was included in a message sent by Secretary Bryan to Congressman Peter F. Taggart of this city, at least fifteen youths have been enlisted in violation of an agreement with the British board of trade regarding the United States shipping laws. These and other cases are being inquired into, it is understood.

Secret service agents are co-operating with United States District Attorney Anderson and his staff on orders from Washington to learn what inducements, if any, have been offered American youths to ship on British vessels as caretakers for horses and cattle.

In the case of the fifteen who left this port on the Leyland liner Cambrian on May 8, the consul general found that all had signed preliminary enlistment papers before his agent could board the steamer on its arrival in London. His cablegram to Secretary Bryan, sent in connection with inquiries for Patrick Deney, a boy of 15 years, said:

"On the arrival of the steamer Cambrian a recruiting sergeant was given opportunity to go aboard and enlisted Deney and four others, thus frustrating arrangements previously made for his return."

The consul general added that he was asking the British war department "for Deney's immediate discharge as contrary to the agreement with the board of trade covering compliance with the United States shipping laws, which provide for the return of horse guards to ports of departure."

Since the outbreak of the war several hundred young men have shipped out of this port on the steamers used as horse transports by the re-mount division of the British army. Few have returned, according to the information gathered by the federal officers.

Writ of Attachment
Against M. K. & T.
Filed in New York

New York, June 4.—A writ of attachment against the property in this state of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway company was issued by the supreme court here today upon the application of John Davis, who holds $100,000 worth of an issue of $19,500,000 two-year notes which matured on May 1 last.

Noteholders presenting more than 90 per cent of the total issue recently agreed upon an extension of interest for a year from May 1 last. Mr. Davis, it is said, refused to agree to the extension and had now begun an action to recover his principal and interest on his holdings.

French Official Statement.

Paris, June 4.—The following communication was issued this evening:

"North of Arras our attacks have resulted in progress. We have taken a trench from the enemy and captured about thirty prisoners. We have stopped with the aid of grenades a German attempt to counter attack at Neuville. We have made a further gain of about 300 feet in the 'Labyrinth' south of Neuville.

"The enemy with one piece of artillery of long range and with Verdun as his objective, fired a few shells. These, however, did not reach their mark.

"We have bombarded the southern front of the entrenched camp of Metz. The Germans have fired a few projectiles at St. Die. These caused no casualties or material damage."

Artillery Fighting Mainly.

London, June 4.—Field Marshal Sir John French reports that during the last few days the fighting on the western line has been confined mainly to artillery engagements.

"On the night of May 26," the report says, "we seized some outbuildings in the grounds of a ruined chateau at Hooze. Since then our trenches there have been subjected to a heavy bombardment.

"Fighting on a small scale has been continuous. At 0915 hrs. we were forced to evacuate the buildings taken by us but last night we recaptured them.

"Northeast of Givency last night we expelled the enemy from his trenches on a front of 200 yards, taking forty-eight prisoners. Our infantry, however, was unable to remain in occupation of these trenches after daylight owing to the enemy's fire."

more definite attitude at Washington will result in hastening a solution of the Mexican problem without foreign aid. How this is to be done nobody professes to know except General Carranza himself and he expresses the opinion that his intended reoccupation of Mexico City soon will place the constitutionalists in a better position to be recognized by the Washington government.

That General Carranza intends to reply to President Wilson caused some surprise, as it was at first felt that the warning did not invite a reply. However, when Mr. Silliman called today at the light house where General Carranza makes his headquarters he was informed that a reply was being formulated by Jesus Urrutia, constitutional foreign minister. It was stated that the tone of the reply would be "appreciative, friendly and serene."

What General Carranza found in the note as a basis for his encouragement was not stated, but it was learned that he intends to interpret the warning as a tacit hint that he is the man best fitted to assume ascendancy in Mexico and most likely to receive recognition once the constitutionalists return to Mexico City.

To Point Out Steady Progress.

It is understood that the reply will point out a steady progress by the constitutionalists, indicating an early victory over Villa. Also General Carranza will point out that American recognition would expedite peace in Mexico.

Other points in the reply will be, first, that General Carranza appreciates the kindly sentiments for the Mexican people as expressed by President Wilson; second, that President Wilson has always been regarded as the champion of the down-trodden people and therefore those struggling for a democracy in Mexico look to his friendship for aid; third, that the constitutionalists had already undertaken pacification by uniting all factions but that their efforts had failed because of the ambitions of Villa, who was backed by the Cientifico party; and fourth, that General Carranza considers the outlook bright because he is convinced that he will be able soon to reoccupy Mexico City and reopen traffic, ending Villa's restricted sections of the north until the country is rid of him.

Mr. Silliman received word today from Mexico City that the American and other consuls probably would leave there next week for Vera Cruz.

Villa General Reports Progress.

El Paso, Tex., June 4.—General Felipe Angeles of the Villa forces under date of June 3, wires the Associated Press from Leon, Guanajuato, Mexico, as follows, regarding the fighting between the Villa troops and the Carranza forces under General Alvaro Obregon:

"The battle at Leon has been a long one because Obregon has his troops stationed in fortified positions and he has constantly been on the defensive in his fortifications. The left wing of the troops has been driving the enemy from the mountains extending from Leon to Silao.

On Tuesday, June 1, our left wing completed its movement, capturing Silao and driving the defenders toward Irapuato and La Piedad and attacking forces, fought to retain Silao, has again moved ten kilometers toward Leon, driving the enemy from positions which they were defending in that extension of land. Now the enemy itself surrounded at Trinidad station in their last positions. With the capture of Silao the enemy has been dealt a strong blow, both materially and morally. Their cavalry which fought in Silao was completely dispersed and is demoralized.

"Give this news, acting for General Villa, who is with the troops composing the left wing which took Silao and defeated the enemy."

Duval West at San Antonio.

San Antonio, Tex., June 4.—Duval West, president Wilson's special emissary to the Mexican chieftains and the man whose report was the basis for the note sent this week to Carranza, Villa and Zapata, returned to San Antonio today. Beyond admitting that he had seen the chieftains and had made a report he declined to comment, saying the text of his report would have to be given out from Washington.

Gus Edwards' Troup
Will Give Two More
Shows in Waco

Insistent demands and the fact that many had to be turned away from the Cozy theatre last night, have persuaded Gus Edwards and his school girls and boys to prolong their stay in Waco another day. Two performances will be given today, matinee this afternoon and at night. Mr. Edwards announces that the matinee will be over in plenty of time to see the ball game.

Manager Edwards and his company were guests of President Turner of the Waco baseball club yesterday afternoon at Katy park, where they saw the Navigators do up the Giants to the tune of 9 to 0. Every member of the company has already many personal friends in the city who will be immensely pleased to learn that their stay will be one day longer.

The wonderful child artist, Little Georgia, gives an impersonation of Charlie Chaplin that is even more screamingly complete than the original. Georgia also impersonates many of the Broadway stars, including Raymond Hitchcock, Eddie Foy, Fannie Brice and Al Johnson. Little Georgia does some lightning changes in this act that are marvelous.

Gus Edwards' "Song Revue of 1915" has left throngs of satisfied and gratified theatre-goers wherever the company has stopped. The two performances this afternoon and tonight will be the last in Waco.

MISS HELEN OLENBUSH ENTERTAINS BAYLOR GIRLS

To the few class mates entertained by Miss Helen Olenbush on Friday, it was indeed the happy relief from "exams" and the trying days of graduation to have a pretty little luncheon table ready, in manner dainty dishes, and thus general good time. This was compliment of Miss Olenbush who has her degree from Baylor this year, classmates, Marion and white of the senior colors was quite in evidence about the table. One of the unique touches found kodak portraits of the guests interchanged. In this each a souvenir of friend and hostess. Those who enjoyed this courtesy from Miss Olenbush are the Misses Mary Cloyd Harrison, Corrine Plankin, Alice Thompson, Lynn White, Reba Funk.

BRIDGE WITH MRS. FORMAN FOR MISS MILDRED CLARK

The visit of a friend of former years, Miss Mildred Clark of Little Rock, was inspiration to Mrs. Frank Forman for a morning game of bridge. To share the pleasure of honoree was Miss Celia Moore, the bride of the week. Thus, with young folks to be her preferred guests, it was Mrs. Forman's desire to limit her invitations more to the friends among her girls and young matrons. Nine tables were made ready for the game. The rooms were made pleasing with plenty of flowers, and at the close of the last round, adjournment was had for a more general mingling in the tea room. The prize feature favored Miss Lucille Hill and Miss Frances Luedde. Noted among the visitors especially welcomed were Mrs. A. W. Koch and Mrs. Jerome Beam from Atlanta.

THE SOCIAL NEEDLECRAFT WITH MRS. WILLIAM HOOPER

When the members of the Social Needlecraft were assembled with Mrs. William Hooper, and each had placed her package of needlework on the assigned table, there lay a heap of pretty wrappers held by the club members. Thus, with young folks to be her preferred guests, it was Mrs. Forman's desire to limit her invitations more to the friends among her girls and young matrons. Nine tables were made ready for the game. The rooms were made pleasing with plenty of flowers, and at the close of the last round, adjournment was had for a more general mingling in the tea room. The prize feature favored Miss Lucille Hill and Miss Frances Luedde. Noted among the visitors especially welcomed were Mrs. A. W. Koch and Mrs. Jerome Beam from Atlanta.

COMPLIMENT TO MISS LACY OUT AT JACK-BIL-LOU

With Miss Louise Baker hostess and the Mesdames John Baker and Loy Tuttle matrons of the evening, about twenty were entertained out at Jack-Bil-Lou in courtesy to Miss Stella Lacy, the bride-elect. This being one of the first at this event, and with the picturesque setting of the grounds, made the occasion one of novelty to society as well as enjoyment. The rustic gateway gave first welcome to its guests of friends. Aside, over the old-fashioned well house, a glow of lantern showed a very artistic treatment for a well of refreshing punch. Within this were rustic baskets, each with a picnic lunch and the name of the young lady who would share. About the grounds these dispersed in true moonlight picnic way. The verandah was ready for the informal dance to Victrola records. In keeping with a suburban home, Miss Baker gave a rustic atmosphere to her party, at the same time, those details were imparted which sustains this family's prestige for taste and originality.

EVANGELIA SETTLEMENT HOLDS BOARD SESSION

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors for Evangelia Settlement found quite acceptable departure with its June session. Owing to a change of residents in the Settlement it was not convenient for the board to meet there, so Mrs. R. G. Patton as president invited the members into her own home. Routine matters were discussed, and of most general interest finds the Reverend and Mrs. Morris installed at the Settlement for the summer and probably longer. The boys' clubs will be maintained, and the Parent-Teacher and Camp Fire Girls stressed. Miss Laura Edwards, the Public Health Nurse, is now a resident at the Settlement House, which is much to the gratification of the board. The Parent-Teacher and cooking classes are disbanded for the summer, but the day kindergarten is maintained.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS FOR GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Preceding their business session, the mothers of West Avenue Grammar school enjoyed quite a pleasing program from the children, also from Mrs. Meyer, who added to this program a reading. The children's game club, stories and readings made this feature of the program. The report for the first year was made. This was quite satisfactory, since this is the first year of this school, hence an incomplete organization of the school only one year and a half, hence the problem now is, to get the majority of mothers interested in the school. The election brings Mrs. J. B. Smith, president, Mrs. J. B. Meddames Farley, Skinner and Stafford vice presidents, with Mrs. Dan LeBow secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Smith reported from the informal conference of the City Board of Teachers' association, and the club was unanimous that it will co-operate with that body; also, it was mentioned whether or not the club should affiliate with the state Parent-Teacher association. It is now adjournment for the vacation. The club will become active as soon as a new school term begins.

WOMAN'S DAY AT HUACO FINDS SIXTY GUESTS

The inauguration of Woman's Day out at the Huaco club proved the occasion of a most enjoyable day. A few of these went out for a bridge game in the morning, but many more were present for the luncheon. All remained to enjoy the musical program with additional arrivals, for this special feature. Mrs. B. H. Schroeder appeared for the first time as a pianist. She won rapturous applause. Mrs. Schroeder is trained and talented by foremost masters in foreign studios, and her rendition is evidence that she is the exponent of both temperament and skill. Mrs. J. W. Hale sang both solo and in duet with Mrs. E. E. Thompson, whose very sympathetic voice is one of this season's acquisitions to Waco musical artists. Miss Honor Woulfe gave a Browning reading. These four women, all artists, thus lent their talent and their training to this first of women's days at the city's popular club. With the luncheon, quite a number had invited guests. These women's days are in the hands of a capable committee who propose to vary the manner of entertainment from week to week. The desire is to bring the Huaco club members as well as to attract the interest of the women to a more personal possession in the club as a pleasure resort.

THURSDAY AUCTION PLAYS WITH MRS. J. J. POWERS

In entertaining her club for the last time this season, Mrs. J. J. Powers took occasion to return card courtesies of the last few months, and by this enlarged her game to eight tables. This gave one of the most pretentious bridge tournaments of the week. The Thursday Auction is decided to play for uniform prize, this being a fancy china plate. Mrs. Powers followed the wishes by having a pretty Doulton piece which fell to Mrs. Charles Gooch. The high score for guest awarded Mrs. Ludwell Williams a silver mounted vase, quite appropriate to the flower season. The high consolation cut gave Mrs. W. J. Lincoln a souvenir of her last game of cards in the home which she is leaving. This was a tea call bell. Mrs.

THE KITCHEN CUPBOARD

CURRIED VEAL.

LUNCHEON MENU.
Lamb Broth.
Curried Veal. Spring Salad.
Toasted Crackers. Cheese.

CUT into small pieces a pound of cold veal that was served as a roast the day before. Put in a chafing dish or frying pan, which has been greased with two tablespoonfuls of butter. Season with one onion, a tart apple, a clove of garlic, all minced fine. Stir in a tablespoonful of curry powder and half a tablespoonful of flour. Add the meat and pour in half a pint of stock. Add a little lemon juice and salt. Let it all simmer slowly for a few minutes and serve hot.

Other Recipes.

Lamb Broth.—Lamb broth can be taken by almost every one. Here is a good recipe for making it. Have a pound of the neck of lamb cut into small pieces and put it in a granite or aluminum saucepan with two cups of cold water for two hours. Then bring it to the boiling point and let it cook, just below the boiling point, for three hours. Strain and season with salt. This could easily be made in a fireless cooker.

Chicken Broth.—This can be made in the same way as lamb broth. Use the neck, the wings and the back of chicken and reserve the other parts for other uses. If rice can be taken a little rice, well boiled, can be added to either chicken or lamb broth.

Cracker Gruel.—Break a soda cracker or two, buttered thin, into a cupful of boiling milk and cook, stirring constantly for three or four minutes. Season with salt.

Stewed Prunes and Figs.—Wash prunes or figs to be stewed and then soak in cold water for ten hours. Cook for half an hour in the same water. Sweeten slightly if necessary.

Spinach on Toast.—Cook some well washed spinach for twenty minutes in boiling, salted water, drain it and rub it through a sieve. Have ready a piece of buttered, thin toast, which has been quickly dipped in boiling water. Moisten the spinach with a little melted butter, season with salt and pepper and pile neatly on toast.

Apple Snow.—Bake an apple in an earthen dish, covered. Remove core and skin before baking. Then rub it through a sieve, add it to the well beaten white of an egg and beat for twenty minutes. Sweeten to taste and serve piled up in a glass cup.

Orange Whip.—Squeeze the juice from an orange. Beat the white of an egg and add a tablespoonful of sugar and a little of the orange juice, beating stiff again. Then pour the rest of the juice into a glass cup, pile on the white and serve.

Grapefruit and Orange.—Grapefruit pulp cut in dice and served in a glass with the juice of an orange and a very little sugar, with a tablespoonful of brandy or sherry, if that is allowed, makes a most refreshing dish for an invalid.

Anna Thompson.

Powers had very pleasing arrangements both in her rooms and in her game detail.

The Thursday Auction disbanded for the warm weather with Mrs. C. N. Smith, who is to name the day for her game later. Those who spent the two hours or called with Mrs. Powers were the Misses Tommie Lacy of Corsicana, Kate Edmond and Virginia Lazenby with the Mesdames Jesse Penix, L. A. Potter, Charles Gooch, C. N. Smith, Joney Smith Holloway Smith, George Hunter Smith, John Ray, Robert Tolson, Frank Trau, Camille Franklin, Ludwell Williams, W. J. Lincoln, Lon Sparks, Ralsh Turner, E. F. MISS NORMA BONNER FRIDAY BRIDGE HOSTESS

Just as dainty as the little hostess herself were the appointments which followed the transition of Miss Norma Bonner's morning bridge game between cordial greeting and the au revoir. This was not in honor of any special guest but in recognition of Miss Bonner's appreciation for "I was a stranger and you took me in." This is the first season in which this popular young girl has been a Wacoan, and the cordial reception accorded her coming has been remarked in society. This game of bridge was first of all for the girls, only the few special invitations being

MARY WEST CHAPTER WITH SPECIAL HOSTESSES

On Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Park, with Mrs. J. T. Strain joint hostess, the anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, was celebrated.

A hundred or more listened with interest and attention to a fine program. Three large rooms, hall and gallery overflowed. The rooms were decorated with Confederate flags, flowers, a large picture of Davis, his family, and the jury of twenty-four negroes and federals who were impounded to try Mr. Davis.

The musical numbers were excellently rendered. "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," as quartet, was never better sung, the singers being Miss Snow Johnson, Mesdames Sharp, Hasser and D. A. Kelley, with Miss Caroline Alexander as pianist.

Mrs. Susan T. Price, a native of Mississippi, gave personal reminiscences of Jefferson Davis, reading a letter received from him in the long ago.

Miss Mildred Lastinger gave a much applauded piano number. Mrs. M. C. H. Park's patriotic reading was well rendered and read. Mrs. Harrison's paper on "Isaacson" was heard with interest and much appreciation shown by hearty applause.

Mrs. Lessing, the chapter's gifted poet, wrote a poem for the occasion, entitled "June the Third." This was impressively read by the gifted daughter of the chapter president, Miss Imogene Gamel.

One of the most enjoyable musical numbers was the voice selection, "The Faded Rose," by Miss Louise Heard, with Mrs. Grant at piano. Frank Tirey gave the address of

Notice to Subscribers:
Delivery routes in the city of Waco are in the hands of independent carriers, who buy their papers at wholesale prices. Subscription accounts are due them, not The Waco Morning News. They are under heavy bond, not only to give the best delivery service, but to pay for their papers each month. Their remuneration is the difference between the wholesale price and the retail price which they receive from subscribers. They are not required, and they are advised against, delivering the paper to anyone who does not pay in accordance with the above subscription terms. These carriers are all earnest, hard working men and they will appreciate any courtesy shown them.

NEW EMPHASIS ON SPELLING.

Newspapers and magazines have had a great deal to say for several years past about the inability of high school and even college students to spell correctly. The most regrettable thing about this criticism was that it was so thoroughly justified. Another consideration that produced pain in the minds of those who care for things fundamental was that those who are responsible for the conduct of our public schools appeared to be unable to remedy the very apparent defect in their system of instruction.

But Waco is rapidly solving the problem and as a result of competent supervision in the primary grades of our public school system pupils of the first grade have become as good spellers as were formerly those of several grades higher up. Miss M. Haliburton, supervisor of primary work in the city schools, is responsible for bringing about this very desirable end, for it is through the application of methods formulated by her that the primary instructors are obtaining such satisfactory results here.

The little folks of the first grade are being taught spelling by a system of phonics, learning certain phonograms and families of words by which they are enabled to spell correctly every word falling within certain groups. And they can write out the words as accurately as they can spell them orally and they know the rules of capitalization and the reasons for those rules.

In the second grade the pupils know how to spell and read and punctuate correctly, which is more than lots of college students know. The colleges are not presumed to instruct their pupils in spelling. That is the work of the primary schools, and if the work is done well there, there will be no need for further instruction in this subject when the pupils go higher up. There is nothing more fundamental in school instruction than spelling. Inability to spell correctly nullifies much of one's accomplishments in other directions and must always remain a stumbling block in one's pathway, no matter what profession he elects to follow or how brilliant he may be in other directions.

The public schools can not lay too great emphasis upon correct spelling and we are glad that our local schools have made such marked progress in that direction.

ENFORCE THE RULES.

The Morning News hopes the newly formed board of health of this city will adhere rigidly to its rule that all physicians shall promptly report all cases of infectious and contagious diseases in order that proper steps for their quarantine can be taken immediately.

We have been informed that in a certain section of the city a father, mother and three children, constituting the entire family, were all confined to their beds with scarlet fever and no report had been made of it to the proper authorities and no quarantine established. Such carelessness on the part of attending physicians is wholly inexcusable and should not be tolerated for a moment.

Health is our greatest asset. The summer months upon which we have just entered constitute the most dangerous period in the year. There will be more sickness than we need, no matter how diligently we may strive to avoid it, but the doctors, as the peculiarly-constituted guardians of our health, should set a good example to the other members of the community by trying to guard the public health as well as conserve that of their individual patients.

There should be full support of the board of health in its efforts to have all cases of contagious and infectious diseases promptly reported and quarantined, and all breeding places of flies and mosquitoes and disease removed. In this latter respect the citizens in general, as well as the physicians, should have a part.

AMERICANIZING OUR IMMIGRANTS.

In the hope of bringing immigrants in America as well as citizens of the United States generally, to a proper appreciation of the privileges conferred upon them by this government, the Immigrants in America Review has undertaken a campaign to have the approaching Fourth of July celebrated not only as the anniversary of our national Declaration of Independence but as the occasion for a new Declaration of Citizenship as well.

The movement received an impetus in the recent meeting in Philadelphia when President Wilson sounded the new Declaration of Citizenship in an address to the foreign-born residents of that city. It is a worthy movement. We have no doubt of the loyalty of those Germans, Italians, French, Russians, Swedes, Norwegians or the residents of any other European countries who have come to America and taken out their naturalization papers and expressed a fealty to the American government.

But in times of national and international stress such as we have been passing through for the past several months it is well enough that we give added emphasis to the duty of each citizen to his country. When the president is having to deal with such delicate questions as have confronted him with such frequency, it is very essential that he have the support of every citizen, no matter what his allegiance may have been before coming to this country, and we believe the character of celebration of the Fourth of July as this magazine has proposed would serve not only to bring about a truly sane celebration of the nation's natal day, but would, if carried out over the country generally, give to the celebration a great civic value.

In a letter to the foreign born citizens of America the editor of the Immigrants in America Review says:

"In 1776 the Declaration of Independence set this country free and made it a haven for the oppressed of many lands who have come here seeking opportunity. In 1915, the Declaration of Independence is to be interpreted as a new Declaration of Citizenship.

"We Americans and coming Americans, safe in the peace, prosperity and strength of our country, seek some way in which to express as one people our appreciation of these blessings. It is therefore proposed that on the Fourth of July the American-born citizens hold receptions with appropriate exercises in honor of our national fellow-citizens and declarants. On this occasion we will all seek together to make this July the Fourth a day of inspiration and fulfillment to all citizens alike.

"In order to do this we need your ideas, your advice, and your active co-operation, and I shall be glad to receive your suggestions for the National Americanization Day Committee.

(Signed) "FRANCIS A. KELLOR, Editor Immigrants in America Review."

It is intended that every city shall extend a welcome to its recently naturalized and alien residents proclaiming America as one nation and one people. This appears to be an excellent suggestion and it is our belief that the carrying out of such a program in Waco, with a welcome to the foreign-born residents of this city and county, would be quite worth while. We pass the suggestion on to the Chamber of Commerce and the Young Men's Business League.

THE RAILROADS AND THE PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION.

Reading of the fruitless endeavor of the resident of New Brighton, Staten Island, who essayed to make the journey to San Francisco and the exposition by the ancient prairie schooner method, but died of a fever after having reached Kentucky, one realizes how hopeless even such a magnificent enterprise as the San Francisco fair would have been without this country's innumerable railways to transport its thousands of patrons, says the New York Morning Telegraph.

What the railroads have done for the entire West in its civilizing, upbuilding, developing and modernizing is being more widely appreciated since the exposition threw open its doors than it has been in all the preceding years. The many who have already made the trip cannot refrain from commenting on what they regard as the almost marvelous fact that the shores of the far Pacific are so readily accessible to folks residing on the opposite edge of the continent. The trip that they can now make comfortably and in a few days across expansive farming areas, spreading plains and huge mountain ranges, over the routes once so wearily plodded for months by the patient pioneers on their early pilgrimages, is to these modern travelers matter of continuous amazement.

The speech of these returning ones abounds in adjectives. They cannot say enough of the "splendid fair" and the "wonderful West," and always they conclude with reference to the railroads that were at the beginning and are at the bottom of all this progress and success in terms of admiration that are not qualified. Considerations such as these should move all men to do justice to the merits of these essential agencies of enrichment and growth and demonstrate their appreciation of the infinite good they have accomplished by the advocacy of the most liberal policies with respect to affording opportunity for the profitable conduct of the enterprises upon which the general welfare so largely and continuously depends.

Now that the Germans and Austrians have retaken Przemyśl it is about time General French was beginning to do some of that fighting for which he has said he was reserving the British forces.

THE MAN FOR THE JOB.

When the British government was reorganized a week ago, with representatives of all the leading parties in the coalition, a big step was taken to overcome what Britons are agreed has been their greatest handicap since the beginning of the war—the failure of workmen in plants where engines and munitions of war are manufactured to give their best work, says the San Antonio Light.

The "lower middle class" in England seems not to have yet appreciated how important this war is to their country. They are not a quick-thinking class, and the fact that England is at war overseas has not impressed them much. England has often been at war overseas. They look to their Tommies to win on land, and their navy to protect them from invasion. Themselves, they continue to be more interested in the contents of their Saturday night pay envelope and the quantity of provisions their wages will buy.

Undoubtedly they have been encouraged to shirk their work in some cases by labor leaders of the class who are willing to sacrifice anything to their own advancement, and who see in the country's difficulties a chance to win wage concessions that could not be gained in times of peace. Another difficulty has been the number of workmen in munition shops who are perfectly contented if they can make three pounds or thereabouts a week. As they can usually succeed in doing this in about four days, they prefer to take the remainder of the week off—and proceed to do so with the "independence" of which every middle-class Englishman is so proud.

Sir John Jellicoe wrote recently to the First Lord of the Admiralty, referring to a report just made him by "a responsible officer" on conditions in the shipyards on the Clyde and Tyne. "He said," wrote Jellicoe, "that the men refused altogether to work on Saturday afternoon, that they took Wednesday afternoon off every week, if not the whole of Wednesday, and worked all of Sunday because they get double pay for it."

There is no way to make a Britisher work when he says he won't, and the problem that confronted the government was a serious one. Apparently the leaders could not have done a better thing than they have done—to add to the cabinet a place known as "minister of munitions," and give the job to Lloyd-George.

David Lloyd-George, as a politician, is cordially hated by all conservative Englishmen, but his ability is unquestioned. He combines a knowledge of men and a complete understanding of the government's needs with a marked executive ability, a genius of finance and physical constitution that allows him to work long hours under a strain that would upset the average man. Added to this, he is an eloquent speaker and his sympathies, as a radical, have always been with the workmen of England. If anybody can make them work to get out the needed war munitions, he can.

Says the Waco Tribune: "A careless clerk playing a tattoo on his typewriter, slipped in too many ciphers on the appropriation for an auditorium at the A. & M. College of Texas and what was intended for $100,000 became $1,000,000. Such an error ought not to affect the interests of the college. In the face of every record throughout the history of the bill, showing that $100,000 was intended there ought to be some way by which the governor can approve it. At any rate, the faith of the college authorities can be pledged to use $100,000 and no more in the building, and that will protect the funds of the state." Our neighbor should not place all the blame on the poor stenographer. The stenographer was greatly rushed at the close of the session, due to the fact that the lawmakers had deferred most of the important business until the very last. If the members of the legislature will arrange to lose less time early in the sessions and perfect all bills earlier there will be fewer mistakes in their engrossment in the closing hours of the session.

Our esteemed neighbor and friend, the Waco Semi-Weekly Tribune, has completed the first twenty years of its existence. In its Wednesday issue it sets forth some of the marked development that has come to this city and section during that time, and it remains for us to add that the Tribune has not only kept pace with that progress, but has contributed largely to it. We think no one will call into question the declaration that the Tribune is the best semi-weekly paper, independent of any daily affiliations, in this section of the country, and we hope its growth during the next twenty years will be even larger than during the two decades that have just closed.

General Huerta, Dr. Urrutia and others of that school say the Wilson note to Mexico is an error. Well, that lacks a good deal of being as much as President Wilson has intimated about the assassination of Madero and the usurpation of the Mexican presidency by Huerta.

Texas has gotten some material benefit from the war, though a very small amount in comparison to the loss sustained by the collapse of the cotton market. A livestock dealer estimates the allies have spent between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 for horses and mules in this state already.

"Przemysl Falls Before Germans' 'Big Berthas,'" reads a headline in an exchange. Pray what army or fort could withstand an assault by a force of "Big Berthas," German or any other nationality?

The Lonesome Heart

is the story of a poor little foundling girl who runs away from the cruelties of the asylum where she is an unwilling but not unhappy inmate.

Now Samantha—the orphan—is a great reader of romances and so it happens—just as it does in a book, that the great adventure comes. This is told in a four part Mutual Masterpicture, featuring the beautiful and accomplished Margarita Fischer.

The story of this unique and captivating play is wonderfully interesting and the scenes are beautiful in the extreme.

HIPPODROME.

"The Lonesome Heart."

"The Lonesome Heart," four part Mutual Masterpicture, showing at the Hippodrome for the last time today, with Margarita Fischer, Joe Singleton, Robyn Adair and other Mutual players, is a combination of fun, pathos and love in just the right mixture that makes pretty picture, with an artful mingling of smiles and tears and a combination of the ludicrous and the pathetic reaching toward new pinnacles in motion pictures.

Miss Fischer, the versatile actress

and one of the most beautiful who appeared in the first Mutual Masterpicture, "The Quest," and whose flashing black eyes have made her the adored of film fans, makes a good showing in "The Lonesome Heart."

"The Lonesome Heart" has for its foundation and theme one touch of nature that makes the world kin. Samantha, the orphan, played by Miss Fischer, is an heiress, who has been kept out of her property by her father's dishonesty. Despite her surroundings, she is a girl of high ideals, a great reader of romances and it so happens that she falls asleep in the

Eleemosynary Section Appropriation Bill Approved by Governor

Austin, Tex., June 4.—Governor Ferguson today approved the eleemosynary section of the appropriation bill for 1915-1917, with but a single item vetoed. That item provided for an appropriation of $4,000 to pay for installation of a heating plant at the school for the deaf and dumb in Austin. Superintendent Urbanek stated, however, that this was not needed and the item was stricken out. The appropriation for the heating was added on the floor and was not in the original bill.

The judicial section of the appropriation bill carrying $61,200 was also approved by the governor. Not a single item was vetoed as the bill stands as it was passed out of the legislature. The eleemosynary section of the appropriation bill carries $2,131,240 for 1915 and $1,918,310 for 1917, or a total of $4,049,550.

State Tax Board Adjourns to June 18

Austin, Tex., June 4.—The state tax board, which had been in session since yesterday hearing the protests of railroads against the board's estimates of intangible assets, today adjourned until June 18, when the hearing will be resumed. All roads protesting have been heard except the Katy, I. & G. N., Texas and Pacific, Sunset Central lines and the Trinity and Brazos Valley.

O. L. Clark of the Santa Fe railroad, protested before the board at the preliminary valuation of intangible assets of that road on the ground that the valuation was excessive because of the fact of an indebtedness of $18,000,000 against the Santa Fe was considered at par value in computing the intangible assets.

This indebtedness, he showed by reports of the railroad commission to be considered without the scope of those debts assumed at par value. The respondent also cites that this indebtedness does not stand as a lien against the physical properties of the railroad but rather is a lien against the net proceeds. The increase is over three million dollars for 1915 against the line.

Working Boys See Panama Canal Model at Sanger Brothers

By the courtesy of Sanger Bros., the members of the Working Boys' club, who have to work during the day, were given a special hour last night to enjoy a demonstration of the workings of the Panama canal at the hands of A. C. Hallgren and J. A. Buehler, who explained the electric model of the big engineering feat that has been on exhibition at the Sanger building for the current week.

The various proportions of the big ditch that unites the two oceans, the nature and cost of the material employed in the construction of the locks and dams which make the navigation of the canal possible, the operation of the locks for the passage of ships, the electric railroad, the methods employed by the United States government in making the region habitable, the location of the various towns in the canal zone, and many other points of interest were explained by the demonstrators and the boys enjoyed the hour fully. They accorded a vote of thanks to the demonstrators and to Mr. Crawford, who arranged the special hour for them.

Today will be the last day of the exhibit in Waco and all who have not seen it are invited to do so today.

E. R. BOLTON HEADS

BOY SCOUT COUNCIL

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED AND SELECTIONS BY VOCAL QUARTETTE GIVEN.

Plans for Summer Camp Which Begins Next Wednesday Outlined by Commissioner.

E. R. Bolton was elected president of the Waco Boy Scout council at the regular monthly meeting held last night in the Y. M. B. L. rooms. Other officers elected were Mrs. Baker Hoskins, first vice president; C. H. Anderson, second vice president; L. M. Wollett, third vice president; Sam Knight, secretary; Mrs. William Green, treasurer. Committees will be appointed later by President Bolton.

Several selections by a quartet composed of Harry Bahl, Henry Stubblefield, C. H. Anderson and Charles E. Green, received applause from the council members and boy scouts present.

Scout Commissioner Hays detailed plans for the annual summer camp of Boy Scouts, which will be held on the Charles Moore farm near South Rose, beginning next Wednesday. The boys will make the trip to the camp in automobiles, starting from the office of the American Express company on Franklin street at 10 o'clock. The Boy Scout band will give an hour's concert preceding the start. Prof. Charles Parker of Baylor university is now instructor of the band, which is making wonderful progress. R. C. Nettles, L. M. Wollett and John Dockery were named by Commissioner Hays as a committee to obtain automobiles for the use of the boys on the trip to the camp. Every scout was designated a committee of one to obtain an automobile for the parade which will escort the boys through the streets to the city limits.

The following plans and rules for the conduct of the camp were announced by Commissioner Hays: "The camp will be laid off in one long street, tents on both sides of the street.

"The cooking tent will be placed at a good distance from the camp. Every scout will go to bed by or before the time the trumpet sounds, at 10 o'clock p. m.

"Every scout will have to get up at the trumpet sound at 6 o'clock a. m. The first to appear before his tent in his gym suit will receive a blue ribbon as a reward. The last one to appear before his tent will get a yellow ribbon, which will be an emblem that he was slow.

"After arising in the morning every one will take a few minutes of exercises, then for a swim. After the swim breakfast will be served.

"The scouts will be free after breakfast until 10:30 a. m., when they will go swimming again. "There are to be contests through the entire day, such as slinging the ax, casting the spear, throwing the javelin and many other games that are known to the scouts.

"Lessons will be given in swimming every day. "Every boy will be expected to carry his own bedding, his plate, knife, fork, spoon and cup. We wish every one to carry a tent if he has one; if he hasn't any, to borrow one if possible. "Visitors are invited on the 13th, to come out and bring everything good to eat that is possible to get. We hope that a good number will be there."

Marketing of Grain Will Be Discussed at Meeting Today

All persons interested in marketing the grain crop in this section have been called to meet in the Chamber of Commerce rooms this afternoon to formulate plans to establish in Waco a stable grain market which will afford McLenahan county farmers best prices for their grain. The call for the meeting, which will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, resulted from a conference held last week between S. N. DeHay, a prominent farmer of Erath, and President J. J. Powers of the chamber of commerce. Local grain men have been invited to take part in the conference this afternoon.

COMMENCEMENT AT BAYLOR UNDER WAY

WEEK'S ACTIVITIES BEGIN WITH CONCERT BY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

ANNUAL JUNE DEBATE TONIGHT

Members of Senior Class to Enjoy Sunrise Breakfast at Cameron Park This Morning.

With a choice selection of classical numbers in their repertoire the concert of the Baylor Symphony Orchestra in Carroll Chapel last night formally opened the Seventieth Annual Commencement of Baylor University. The commencement program this June includes six days of crowded events and will mark the outgoing of the university's largest class.

The symphony orchestra under the direction of Anton Navratil, professor of violin in the Baylor Fine Arts department, is one of the musical prizes of the university, and the program last night lived up to the reputation that the aggregation of musicians have established during the past few years. There were eighteen pieces in the orchestra last night, some of the student musicians have returned to their homes.

Many music lovers from the city were in the audience, besides the friends of the university, who have begun to arrive for the events of commencement and the students and their appreciation was manifested frequently by the generous encores. The program was especially marked by a pleasing variety of composers and movements. The numbers showed a range from the dreamy, exquisite tone poem, "Nocturne," by Schubert, to the fantasy and weird strains of the "Hungarian" Dance movement by Brahms. Director Navratil has gathered together musicians who are artists in their lines, for a college orchestra, and many of them have had several years' training together. Their sympathetic interpretation of these compositions were declared to be very pleasing by musicians in the audience.

Solo Numbers Please.

The solo numbers for the evening were given by Miss Margaret Kendall, an instructor in piano at Baylor, who gave two dance movements from Beethoven, one from Schubert, and an encore. A violin duet by Misses Edith Lake and Stella Wolters was another feature of the program. They rendered "Longing for Home," by Andre, an appealing little composition. The cornet leads were played by Charles Parker, director of the Baylor band, and this player's touch was an especially pleasing musical asset in Verdi's "Quartet from Rigoletto."

The concert last night is only one of the several musical features that will be a part of the program, scheduled for each day until the close of the exercises with the awarding of diplomas on next Wednesday.

Last night's program in full was as follows:

Festival march Mendelssohn
(a) Slavonic Dance No. 1, Dvorak
(c) Dance of the Doves Brahms
Serenade Grieg
Piano Solo—
(a) Moment Musical Schubert
(b) Ecossaise, German Dance Beethoven
Miss Margaret Kendall
Violin Duet, "Longing for Home" Andre
Misses Wolters and Lake
Quartet from Rigoletto Verdi
(a) Nocturne Schumann
(b) Berceuse Lisinsky
Coronation march Meyerbeer

June Debate Tonight.

Baylor enthusiasm today is centered in the final inter-society contest of the year, the annual June debate, between the Erisophian and Philomathesian Literary Societies, which will be held in Carroll Chapel tonight at 8:15 o'clock. The student orators will attempt to solve the pressing judicial question of Texas as to whether to the judges of the supreme court of the state should be appointed by the governor, to hold office during good behavior, or be elected as president.

Byron Smith of Oklahoma, Texas, a senior, and Frank A. Godsoe of Waco, a junior, representing the Erisophians, will champion the affirmative. Supporting the negative of the question, for the Philomathesians will be J. W. Thomas of Waco, a senior, and Jeff D. Chalk of Goodnight, a junior. All four contestants have had experience in college forensics and are expected to put up a battle royal for the last society honors of the year.

The annual inter-society commencement exercises will be held in the chapel this morning at 10 o'clock. At this hour the four representatives from the two men's and the two women's literary societies will give a program, consisting of orations and musical selections.

A band concert by the university organization will be given on the campus this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The band is directed by Charles Parker, and will furnish most of the campus music during commencement. Beginning at 5 p. m. and lasting until 7 p. m., the students will have an informal reception on the campus.

Senior Sunrise Breakfast.

Members of the senior class will enjoy a sunrise breakfast at Cameron park this morning. A special car will take the early picnickers from the university at 5 o'clock, and after spending several hours in a truly informal ramble as an appetizer with a breakfast cooked camp style immediately following, the seniors will return in time for the 10 o'clock society program.

Dr. William Joseph McGlothlin of Louisville, Ky., will deliver the commencement sermon to the graduates in Carroll Chapel tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. He will also speak to the members of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. in the evening at 8:15 in the chapel. Dr. McGlothlin has a reputation of combining the ability of public address with a high type of Christian scholarship.

One of the pleasant features of the Baylor commencement is the annual reception by the department which will be held in the studio from 5 to 7 o'clock this afternoon. In addition to the exhibition of samples of the year's work there will be a demonstration of the various lines of work by the students. Short chalk talks will add another novelty. All interested persons are cordially invited to attend the reception.

MARKET REPORT

STOCKS AND BONDS

New York, June 4.—For the first time in many years trading in stocks today was governed almost entirely by domestic developments. The so-called "bull" situation, which has been the result of foreign considerations, lost their force or value compared with the decision of the federal court absolving the United States Steel corporation from violation of the anti-trust laws. Quite apart from its direct effect, the decision was regarded as the most important bearing on big business in years. The sweeping character of the court's decree gave rise to the hope that the case would not be appealed.

Steel was absorbed in enormous quantities during the first hour, the transactions aggregating about 40 per cent of the 400,000 shares which then changed hands.

The first offering consisted of 28,000 shares at 62 1/2, against yesterday's close of 59 1/2. Sales immediately after were at slight recessions. The preferred stock made an initial gain of 2 1/2, later increasing this to almost 5 points. Common stock advanced 1 1/2 points. American Can and American Steel were up 1 1/2 and 1 1/4 points respectively. American Smelting and Refining was up 1 1/2 points. American Sugar was up 1 1/2 points. American Tobacco was up 1 1/2 points. American Cotton was up 1 1/2 points. American Lumber was up 1 1/2 points. American Paper was up 1 1/2 points. American Glass was up 1 1/2 points. American Oil was up 1 1/2 points. American Rubber was up 1 1/2 points. American Chemical was up 1 1/2 points. American Electric was up 1 1/2 points. American Telephone was up 1 1/2 points. American Gas was up 1 1/2 points. American Water was up 1 1/2 points. American Insurance was up 1 1/2 points. American Banking was up 1 1/2 points. American Real Estate was up 1 1/2 points. American Transportation was up 1 1/2 points. American Communication was up 1 1/2 points. American Public Utilities was up 1 1/2 points. American Miscellaneous was up 1 1/2 points.

Profit-taking on a large scale followed the early rise, causing a substantial reduction of gains in all parts of the list and completely wiping out the rise in Canadian Pacific, Erie and American Lumber. The market then became dull but gathered strength in the afternoon, under the lead of Amalgamated Copper, General Electric and Westinghouse. Recurrent selling of the leaders caused an irregular close. Total sales of stocks amounted to 1,055,000 shares.

Copper issues advanced 1 1/2 points. The bond market, with gains of 5 to 6 points. Total sales, par value, aggregated $22,000,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WHEAT

Chicago, June 4.—Increased offerings of new crop shipments to arrive from Indiana and Illinois gave an advantage today to the bears in wheat. The market closed weak at 2 1/2 @ 2 3/4, under last night's leading staples, too, all showed a net decline—corn 3/4 @ 1/2, oats 1/2 @ 1/4 and provisions 1/2 @ 1/4.

A temporary early upturn in wheat which arose from additional storms in Oklahoma and from a report that near Chicago was off later by estimates that regardless of bull advice Oklahoma could be depended upon for a yield of 50,000,000 bushels, and that the harvest would begin about the middle of June.

Lower cables handicapped the wheat bulls.

Price changes in corn depended almost wholly on the fluctuations of wheat. Oats followed the course of wheat grain.

Provisions suffered from the effects of the break in the price of cereals.

COTTON

New York, June 5.—A further advance in the cotton market at the opening this morning carried the market about 5 1/2 per bale above the recent low level, but there was a good deal of realizing at 10 o'clock, closing easy at a net loss of from 10 to 14 points for the day.

Cables did not fully meet yesterday's local advance and the weather map made a more favorable showing, but the market here opened 3 to 4 points higher on a renewed falling off in the early part of the afternoon and the close was at the lowest point of the day. Liverpool was a moderate seller here on the fairly advance and there seemed to be a feeling in local circles that the improvement of about 40 points from the low level of last week had weakened the technical position.

The into-eight figures for the week showed a falling off as market doing last year for the first time since the present crop began to move freely and the present figures were rather bullish but seemed to make little impression on immediate sentiment.

Exports for the day were 17,296 bales, making 7,802,807 so far for the year, port receipts 6,067. United States port stocks 1,012 bales.

New Orleans, June 4.—After advancing sharply in the early part of the session today, cotton gradually fell off and in the afternoon the market became soft. The close was at the lowest of the day, a net advance of 2 1/2 to 3 points.

Around the opening the trading months were 24 to 27 points up. Profit taking by buyers in the early part of the week checked the upward movement and brought about the reaction.

The market improved in sympathy with the rise yesterday in New York, the large spot trading in Liverpool and the report that the British government had disowned the bulk of the cotton it had seized from the bulge in the stock market. Expectations of large mill takings for the week also stimulated buying.

The features against the market were the decided improvement in the weather over the cotton region and the uncertainty over relations with this country and Germany. These two things hastened selling out to realize on long cotton.

Weekly Cotton Review.

New York, June 4.—A steadier tone has developed in the cotton market during the past week, little or no improvement having been reported in the volume of new business, although local trading has been more active than local trading prices have advanced about 32 per bale from the recent low levels.

The firmer ruling of the stock market has made a favorable impression on sentiment and the decision in the steel case also seemed to help the cotton market. At the end of the week, many traders thought it likely to help a return of general confidence.

Local bull support also has been encouraged by complaints of excessive rainfall in Oklahoma and sections of the southern belt. Private reports of this sort were backed up to some extent by the weekly review of the weather bureau and since the receipt of private cables claiming that sales against recent cotton in Liverpool had been completed, the English market has shown a firmer tone.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS HOLD GRADUATION

CLASS OF 301 BOYS AND GIRLS
COMPLETE PREPARATORY WORK.

EXERCISES AT DIFFERENT HOURS

W. B. Brazelton Presents Diplomas to Daughter and Granddaughter.

While 110 Waco boys and girls graduated from the high school Thursday night, 301 graduated into the high school from the two grammar schools yesterday. Exercises were held at the Central Grammar school, Prof. J. D. Holcomb, principal, with a class of 151 graduating at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and at the West Grammar school, Prof. C. W. Morris, principal, with a class of 150 at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

An unusual incident at the West avenue school exercises was that W. B. Brazelton, vice president of the board of education, presented diplomas to one of his daughters, Miss Clothilde Brazelton, and to a granddaughter, Miss Alice Snead. So far as can be recalled, never before in the history of Waco were three generations of one family actively represented in any graduation exercises.

No exercises had been planned at the Central Grammar school until a day or so, it being simply the intention to hand out the diplomas. At almost the last moment, however, it was decided to hold a short program, which was done at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

The entire school was arranged on the lawn and the graduates marched out in a body. The seniors sang a chorus, "Away to the Fields Away," and the graduates sang another chorus, "The Fields Away." Miss Eleanor Rasmussen, extended a welcome to the visitors and Misses Dixie Connaway and Edith Dryden sang a duet.

Mr. Brazelton presented the diplomas, making a talk of about ten minutes and Prof. B. B. Cobb, the new superintendent of the city schools, was introduced and spoke briefly. Some of the graduates sang another chorus, the entire school and all the visitors present uniting then in singing a verse of "Auld Lang Syne." It was announced that Miss Helen Scruggs, with 96 2-7 had made the highest grade. The diplomas for the sixty-three who graduated at the midwinter term were sent to the high school to be distributed by Principal E. T. Genheimer.

Another large crowd was present for the exercises at the West avenue school yesterday. An address by Judge Tom L. McCullough, and demonstration of what is being accomplished in the English work by eight members of the class. Prof. Cobb was introduced to the school, following which Mr. Brazelton presented the diplomas. Professor Morris is very proud of the fact that thirteen members of the class made the Seventh A and Seventh B as a double grade, the lowest average being 77, and that sixteen members made the Sixth A and Seventh B as a double grade, the lowest average being 80. The average required for promotion is 70 per cent.

To Rebuild at Temple.
Temple, June 4.—The three buildings on South Main street destroyed on Wednesday night's fire are expected to be rebuilt at an early date, as they occupied choice locations in the business section. Two were owned by Pat E. Dooley of San Angelo and the third by Frank Foca of this city. All were virtually rendered valueless by the flames. Late estimates of the fire loss place same at $20,000 instead of $15,000, as originally estimated. The cause of the conflagration has not yet been determined.

ALESSANDRO IN THE COMPANY

Tribune Receives Contract for City
Printing—Board of Equalization Named.

WHAT THE CITY COMMISSION DID.

Voted to deny permit to Garden Theatre company for the erection of an airdome at Eighth and Austin, opposite Riggins Hotel.
Allowed the proposed amendment to the sidewalk sweeping ordinance to pass over without a vote.
Let contract for city depository to First National bank.
Let contract for city official organ to Waco Semi-Weekly Tribune.
Declared bids received for furnishing feedstuffs for city departments.
Elected Sam Sheppard as a member of the city plainclothes squad.
Elected S. H. Clayton, Luke Moore and Fred Stamp as equalization board of the city.

Permit to allow the Garden Theatre company, composed of Waco men, to erect an open-air theatre on the Riggins property, at Eighth and Austin streets, the proposed amendment to the sidewalk sweeping ordinance to pass over without a vote.
Declared bids received for furnishing feedstuffs for city departments.
Elected Sam Sheppard as a member of the city plainclothes squad.
Elected S. H. Clayton, Luke Moore and Fred Stamp as equalization board of the city.

The Garden Theatre company, which asked the permit to build an open-air theatre at Eighth and Austin, is composed of residents of Waco, most of whom are members of Alessandro's band. Following is a complete list of the stockholders of the company: J. D. Smith, T. W. McClellan, H. L. Cornhusen, Victor Alessandro, Fred L. Strom, Louis Kousall, Mike Alessandro, C. E. Mick, J. B. Dis-mundo, Joe L. Rovello, Charles V. Ke-sler, J. A. Grimland, G. O. Alessandro, Joe Magnolia, Jack Alessandro, Joe Barcelona, Vincent Nicotia, treasurer, and Joe Rovello.

The vote was being taken on the motion of Commissioner Richards that the permit be not granted, when Commissioner Dolins expressed his inclination to vote, and proposed that a band such as was proposed at the theatre, play Monday night on the lot at Eighth and Austin in order that the commissioners might determine whether the location there would be damper to the business of the Riggins hotel. The commissioners seemed to favor this, although the vote already taken was to refuse the permit. Taz J. Smith, a director of the theatrical company, demurred to going into the test concert, although it had been agreed to by J. D. Smith, who appeared as the spokesman of the company, stating that it would cost the directors of the company approximately $100. Before he would agree to the test performance, said Mr. McClellan, he would want to know who would decide whether the permit should be granted or not.

Test Concert Proposed.
Mayor Riggins interrupted Mr. McClellan, with the statement that the matter had already been settled by vote of the commission, and that if Mr. McClellan intended to become controversial, no further consideration would be given the matter. The delegation of stockholders in the proposed theatre left the commission chamber as the mayor called for the next order of business.

City Bids before the commission, reported that the building of the theatre as proposed met the requirements of the city, and that his only objection could be on the appearance of the structure. Mr. Smith, who was spokesman for the theatre stockholders, replied that growing plants would be placed about the exterior of the building to beautify it by day, and that ornamental lights would serve the same purpose at night.

Commissioner Richards stated that he had not intended to granting the permit until after a talk with Mayor Riggins, in which the mayor expressed the opinion that the music at night near the hotel would be a nuisance, and that the mayor would be a citizen and a business man, in making such a statement, Commissioner Richards moved that the matter be left to the mayor, the building inspector, and Commissioner Richards for a decision. Commissioner Richards objected to this disposal, stating that if it were left to him he would refuse to grant the permit. Commissioner Dolins proposed that the matter be deferred until next Friday in order that the commissioners might investigate. Mr. Smith for the stockholders asked that the matter be decided at once, as they wished to take advantage of the summer season already opened. Commissioner Richards then made his motion to refuse the permit, which was seconded by Commissioner Cockcroft.

Mr. Smith declared that nothing could be declared a nuisance before it existed, and that the mayor would have recourse by law if the theatre injured his business. Mr. Smith added that thirty citizens of the city were interested in the project, which men-much to them. Mr. Smith did not agree with the presumption that music would disturb the guests at the hotel, saying that music soothes the nerves and would help the guests to sleep. Mr. Smith agreed to the test proposed by Commissioner Dolins, proposing Monday night as the time. As the commission voted not to issue the permit, however, the proposition of a test concert was dropped.

Equalization Board Chosen.
S. H. Clayton, Luke Moore and Fred Stamp were chosen to compose an equalization board to pass on the city tax rolls. The board will sit at some time in the near future to hear complaints as to assessments for the present year.

The Waco Semi-Weekly Tribune, as the lowest bidder, received the award of the contract for publishing official notices of the city during the next two years. The Tribune's bid was 2c a line for the first insertion and 1c a line for the second insertion and 1c a line for the third insertion. The bid of the Waco Times-Herald, which has held the contract heretofore, was 2c a line for the first insertion, 1c a line for the second insertion, and 1c a line for the third insertion. The Waco Morning News did not submit a bid.

Commissioner Dolins was of the opinion that the city should be given to one of the dailies with a large city circulation, but voted with the majority for the lowest bidder.

The city will receive 2.50 per cent for its funds on daily balances during the next two years, the First National bank remaining the depository. The Central Texas National bank bid 3.50 per cent, as did the Provident, the only other bidders. Provision for a charge of 6 per cent on all overdrafts of the city were in each of the bids.

Sam Sheppard, formerly chief detective, and who has been on the city police force temporarily for the last month, was elected as a member of the plainclothes squad of the city, upon motion of Commissioner Richards. Mayor Riggins opposed the election on the ground that the city already has a sufficient number of policemen. Commissioner Cockcroft voted not, stating that he would advise the city council when they took office to keep the police force down to thirty men. There are now thirty-two men in the department, counting all employees.
